

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death.

My son had a most malignant cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jaw bone and scrape it. Before the cancer returned, and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many remedies without relief, and finally, upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and within the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the cancer disappeared entirely and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now eleven years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return.

Absolutely the only hope for Cancer is Swift's Specific.

S.S.S. For the Blood

as it is the only remedy which goes to the very bottom of the blood and forces out every trace of the disease. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

Must Wear the Stamp.

Sam Boone says in his Somerset Reporter that the section of the law where it requires all women who have arrived at the age of 30 years, and who are unmarried, to exhibit and keep in plain view on their left cheek a hand-somely engraved $4.50 stamp, will not be likely to cut much ice in this vicinity. There are any number of women here who are unmarried, and who will go to their graves wearing the harness of single blessedness, but the giddy creatures never get to be over 20 years old.

FOR ALL WOMEN

NINE-TENTHS of all the pain and sickness from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement in the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

GENERAL NEWS.

The three banks at Danville have on deposit $516,000.

An effort is being made to have a big state fair at Lexington this season. Wood McNeese, a young man of Cincinnati, was seized with cramps while bathing in the Licking and was drowned.

The Kentucky summer resorts all report good business despite the pleasant weather that has kept many at home.

It has been decided by the Internal Revenue Department that express and telegraph companies must affix the labels on packages and messages.

The internal revenue tax receipts in Collector John W. Yerkes's district for the fiscal year ending June 30 aggregated $2,218,047, an increase of $535,854 over the preceding year.

The United States recruiting stations in Louisville did a thriving business during the past week, and not less than one hundred men were accepted.

Cogar & Davis, of Danville, bought from George Brown his grain elevator at the C. S. depot in Nicholasville, which has a capacity of 63,000 bushels. They paid $5,000 for it.

The Lexington Union Stock Yard Company have filed articles of incorporation with a capital of $6,000. S. L. Vanmeter, Geo. H. Whitney and J. T. Jones are the incorporators.

Hallock Rice is reported to have been shot and killed in Johnston county, Kentucky, by S. A. and Reuben Patrick, both prominent families. Reuben was arrested but Sam escaped.

Tom Hayden, colored, was hanged at Hartford, Monday. He said that he intended playing "Home, Sweet Home" on a harmonica on the scaffold, but his nerve failed and he had nothing to say. The penalty of his life was the killing of Bena Logan, colored, near Melberry, in October, 1897.

It seems the City of Louisville has been padding its school census to get a lion's share of the state's per capita. Last year, it reported 82,048 children and he refused to pony up for that number. The new census shows just 55,919 children, which will make a difference of $65,000 to be sent to the city.

At a negro basket meeting at Clay's Ferry, Madison county, Sunday, Ed Jones and Charles Favors, colored, engaged in a pistol duel. Favors was shot in the leg, and his horse killed. Jerry Clay, a bystander was shot in the arm. Twenty-five shots were fired. Whisky was at the bottom of the trouble.

The Chautauqua, which closed Saturday at Lexington, was the most successful in the organization's history. The official figures show that the meeting was more successful than the friends of the assembly imagined. It was found that after all the expenses are paid there will be about $2,000 to be applied to payment on the debt of the institution.

When the Illinois Central Railroad reached its 1,000,000 bale of cotton carried into New Orleans during this season, it made an occasion of it. The bale was encased in cotton duck with brass hoops and ties and was presented to the Cotton Exchange. The cotton shipped at New Orleans last year amounted to 69,000 more bales than had been shipped from that point in any previous year.

The Louisville Post makes the startling announcement that since June 1, 1896, 56 murders have been committed in Jefferson county, the majority of them in Louisville. Fifty-six murders should have been arrested, the heaviest punishment being a sentence of 21 years. And yet all these cases are recorded on the books of the coroner of Jefferson county as cases of murder, pure and simple. The 56 murders do not include about 20 other killings that have occurred during the same length of time, but which are said to have been justifiable.

Congress adjourned last week so far as general interest is concerned, war legislation was the most important enacted during the present session although the Senate devoted more than three months to the Cuban, Hawaiian, and other questions before hostilities were actually declared, and subsequently both branches worked diligently in passing rapidly the various measures for the equipment of the regular and volunteer forces, the purchase of supplies, ammunition, war vessels, transports and the like. Not since our own Civil War has there been such activity in legislation and the voting of so many millions of dollars for the public service. Considering how much there was to do, Congress has practically finished its labors with wonderful rapidity. Among other bills of interest to the entire country that were passed in the bankruptcy bill. That measure had been hanging fire for number years, owing to the wide difference of opinion as to the kind of law that would be effective and at the same time not bear heavily upon the debtor classes. Among measures that failed to pass are: The Nicaragua canal bill; the railroad pooling bill and an overhauling of the entire interstate commerce laws; the antiscaling bill. Most of these will be pressed vigorously during the winter or short session. Cannon, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, read a statement in the House showing what Congress had appropriated at this session. The total reached $892,000,000. Of this $361,000,000 was for war expenditures and $431,000,000 more than appropriations for last session of the last Congress. There were no appropriations for rivers and harbors, but the sundry civil act made provisions for some of these improvements, nor were there any new public buildings provided for.

S. B. White bought of Hamilton & Robinson their stallion, Young Jesse, for $400.

During the two years of 1896 and 1897 the number of horses in Iowa decreased 159,814.

THE RECORD'S engineer, Carey Mullins, has sold his promising colt to S. K. White, of Richmond, for $100.

Galace Moss, winner of the English Derby for 1897, has been sold to the Lusby Government for $101,000. This is the largest price ever paid in Britain for a brood horse.

Alex Walker bought a nice brown horse of Faulstich, of Danville, for $85.

He also bought of S. B. White, of Richmond, a pair of nice horses for $100 and resold one to him for $161.

The first new 2:20 trotter of the year is Bue Wilkes, who reduced his record from 2:21 1/4 to 2:19 at the White Plains meeting. He is pacing bred on his dam's side, being by Wickliffe, out of a mare by Blue Bull, second dam by Tom Hal.

Food which will make a pound of best will make a pound of butter, and while the one may sell for from two to fifteen cents a pound, the latter will bring from 15 to 20. With butter there is less danger from overproduction, for the more good butter made the more seems to be wanted.

The annual report of the tobacco crop of Kentucky, called for by the State laws, purports to be more than a mere off-hand guess. The growers and dealers in the different tobacco growing counties should see to it that their counties are not misrepresented, and there is grave reason to believe that many of the most important counties have been misrepresented, either in former years or during the past year or two—possibly in all of them.

From every quarter comes reports reflecting the conditions and prospects of the hay crop now being harvested. Take the reports as a whole, they indicate one of the largest, if not the very largest, hay crop ever gathered in the United States. From present indications the crop will far exceed that of last year in quantity, and if weather conditions are favorable throughout the harvest the quality will be far superior to that of a year ago—more clear timothy, generally freer from weeds and foreign matter.—Hay Trade Journal.

Speaking of leaf tobacco, the Cincinnati Journal says there was a decided improvement in our market during the present week, nearly all grades being advanced in price, and particularly was this the case in Fine Tobacco. The offerings were moderate, the demand strong, the rejections light. Receipts are increasing somewhat, but as compared with other years are, of course, very small, and stocks in the warehouses continue correspondingly light.

E. P. McCaslin, of Scott county, sowed grain from Wisconsin in ground well prepared and in ground not so carefully prepared. The drill was run back and forth across the ground. Now he has two varieties of wheat—smooth-headed and bearded wheat—the former being limited to that part sown in the well prepared ground and the latter to that sown in the corn ground. The difference in the environment undoubtedly produced the phenomenon, but in what manner is a mystery.—Ex.

Many Kentucky counties derive large revenue from the bluegrass seed industry, but Mercer is not one of them, says the Harrodsburg Democrat. There is not as much grass in Mercer county as in Boyle, Lincoln, Jessamine and other counties, chiefly because some years ago the farmers broke up their virgin soil to raise corn to meet the needs of the large number of distilleries in Anderson county. These distilleries bought largely of Mercer county farmers, raising the price on corn, and the slop industry took many cattle off of bluegrass, leaving it idle. These distilleries do not now use as much corn as heretofore and grass fed cattle are commanding excellent prices. It is high time Mercer county farmers were turning their corn fields back into bluegrass. There is more sure money in it, at present, than anything else.

A New York dispatch contains the following, which will be of much interest to Kentucky hemp growers: "The salvation of hemp growers in Kentucky, which, until competition arose from the cheap fibres of the Philippines and other tropical countries, was the greatest industry in that State, is believed to lie in the blockade of Manila. Admiral Dewey's blockade of the Philippines threatens to create a cordage dearth throughout the civilized world. It has doubled the price of Manila rope and twine in this country, and by doubling the value of hemp has made fortunes for the manufacturers who had large stocks in reserve. It will create an immense demand for Kentucky hemp, the best in the world, and many cordage dealers believe will result in the restoration of that great industry to the place it once held in Kentucky. The Council in the Philippines will prevent a full crop for several seasons."

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Eld. Owen will preach at the Union meeting in the Presbyterian church Saturday night.

The old Baptist church at Russellville is being torn down and a new one will be built.

The Third Baptist church, Owensboro, has at last taken action in Commonwealth's Attorney Jake Rowe's case, and has turned him out on a charge of drunkenness.

Georgetown College conferred the degree of D. D. on no one this year, but it struck higher and conferred the degree of LL. D. on Dr. Jesse B. Thomas, of Newton Theological Seminary, and on Dr. J. B. Marvin, of Louisville.

Charles Kingsley's recipe for being miserable is as follows: "Think about yourself, about what you want, what respect people ought to pay to you, and what people think of you. In other words, center all your thoughts on self, and you will have abundance of misery."

A special from Princeton, Ky., says the talk of the town is the sensational sermon preached at Union services last night by Rev. J. L. Hill, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. He denounced all creeds, the confession of faith of his church and denominationalism, and made a plea for a union of all the churches.

Captain Turner Bottom, now known as Rev. Turner Bottom, is carrying on a big meeting near Cornishville, in Mercer county, assisted by E. S. Wilson, of Nicholas county, and J. M. Robinson, of Grant county. The Advocate says they will go to Williamsburg from Cornishville, and then to Garrard county. Later on they may go to Danville. Mr. Bottom is now also licensed to marry folk.

President McKinley sent cordial greetings and best wishes to the Convention at Nashville and the Christian Endeavors of the United States assembled in the 17th international convention of the society, and representing more than 2,500,000 young men and women of the United States alone, thanked him for his greeting and expressed their heartfelt sympathy with their Christian President, William McKinley, in his suggestion for a service of praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God. They have read the proclamation at their opening service and have united as he desired in prayer for a speedy peace.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the Seventeenth International Convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor to be held at Nashville, Tennessee, July 6 to 11, announces to the world that everything is now in readiness, and the city is anxiously awaiting the opportunity to welcome the jubilant throngs that will come from every State, territory and many foreign lands.

The General Conference of the Southern Methodists have taken full control of Vanderbilt University. This was done, to their credit be said, at the request of the Board of Trustees of the University. The Methodists believe in denominational control of denominational institutions. The Board of Education, created by the Conference, is to make a general canvass for $1,500,000 for educational purposes.

The Advocate says Dr. Robert R. Sutherland, who has for about three years been pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, of Danville, tendered his resignation to the congregation in order to accept an urgent call to the pastorate of the Ramsey Memorial church, in Knoxville. Dr. Sutherland's resignation will be heard of with regret by his Danville friends. He has been pleased with his work here, but his strong attachment to Knoxville, and the enthusiastic call for his services there, have been too much for him to withstand.

The Internal Revenue Collectors of the country estimate that they will need for the first three months of the operation of the war internal revenue 500,000,000 stamps. The department has only been able to furnish the collectors with one month's estimated supply. Up to the present the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has distributed 175,000,000 stamps. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing in turning out about 25,000,000 stamps per day, but the employees are working day and night to do it.

Big Reunion.

General Gentry has just returned from Crab Orchard, says the Harrodsburg Democrat, where he has leased the hotel property there for thirty days from August 1 for the accommodation and pleasure of the great gathering of Gentrys expected to pour in from the four quarters of the earth. The General, who has been the active prime mover in the family reunion, says that a multitude of letters has reached him from nearly every state in the Union—from Maine to Mississippi—and he expects fully five hundred people to be present. Among other forms of amusement he has planned is a colossal surprise party in the way of a fox hunt, which he thinks will be a rouser to all the old fowls in whose veins the Gentry blood courses. After all the guests retire at the termination of the big opening ball, General Gentry proposes to have a fresh fox skin trailed all over the place, through the grounds, over the porches, under the windows and then circling out for miles away. When every male Gentry has turned over on his bed to dream of youthful sports of the past, the General expects to liberate one hundred hands on the fresh track of the fox right in the main court of the hotel. Every man of the Gentry kith and kin, at the familiar and charming sound of the hounds' deep-toned bay, will rush to the scene without going through the formality of putting on his top clothes, and, as they gather there on the porches, so many charming ghosts, the mad chase will go on until the crack of day drives the company indoors.

Outside Explosion.

Joe Waters says some little boys around Stanford had heard much said about bad men and had heard some fellow remark that as he was going to war against Spain, he was daily eating a small quantity of powder to make him game, so when they got hold of a nickel they straightway invested it in the explosive and when their father caught them eating powder the other day and learned the reason thereof, he made them think instantaneously that he had touched off a mine in the seat of their pants, for he sailed into them like Dewey did the Spaniards at Manila. The little fellows say they didn't know their scheme was loaded but since the explosion of their dad's wrath they are so disfigured they resemble the Main.

Timely Advice.

Robert J. Burdette gives good advice, as follows: "There are young men that do not work, my son; but the world is not proud of them. It does not know their names, even, it simply speaks of them as old so-and-so's boys. Nobody likes them, nobody hates them; the great busy world doesn't even know that they are there. So find out what you want to be and do, son, and take off your coat and make a dust in the world. The busier you are, the less deviltry you will be apt to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter and happier your holidays, and the better satisfied will the world be with you."
